

Organized by:

A WORLD WITHOUT FUNCTIONAL MANGROVES?

6 July 2019, Singapore

PUBLIC FORUM

Saturday, 6 July 2019, 1100-1230hrs

National Library Singapore (Level B1, 100 Victoria Street)

Join a team of experts for a mangrove-filled morning! The programme starts with a talk by Professor Joe Lee who will share the importance of mangrove forests to the well-being of people. This talk will discuss key issues in global and regional conservation of mangroves, such as threats they face and on-going potential restorative efforts.

A panel discussion follows this talk, and the audience are encouraged to pose questions on relevant mangrove-related issues. Panel members include Prof. Joe Lee (Chinese University Hong Kong), Dr. Siew Chin Chua (NUS), Dr. Stefano Cannicci (University of Hong Kong), and Mr. Muljadi Tantra (Green Forest Product & Tech Pte) who are experts in mangrove ecology, conservation and management. Admission is free. Register at https://tiny.cc/mangrove_public_forum. All are welcome.

NUS
National University of Singapore

Public Library
Central

